

Embezzlement Counts Dismissed

At the request of the defendant's attorney, Kenneth Hughes, City Judge Robert Lessing yesterday dismissed the two charges of embezzlement against K. B. Sims, local electrician, because of the lack of sufficient evidence. Sims' bail of $250 was exonerated. Four witnesses were examined during the trial with the prosecution being directed by Attorneys John E. McCall of this city and Manning of Los Angeles. Sims had been accused of the felony charges by Ray Clifford of the Service Electric company.

Stranger Enters Home Here But Only Looks Around

Occupants of a house at 1907 Plaza del Arno are still mystified over actions of an unknown man who entered the residence about 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning. According to a report given police, the stranger opened the front door, turned on the lights, stood looking around the living room for several minutes and then snapping the latch on the spring lock, walked out and disappeared in the darkness. 1,200 Groceries Will Accept Food Warrants

When the issuance of food warrants to county charity clients is started next July 1 by the county there will be more than 1,200 grocery stores ready to accept them, according to agreements on file today in the office of Wayne Allen, chief administrative officer. Out of some 15,600 indigent cases in the county, only about 12,000 will receive food warrants, which can be expended only for foodstuffs, thus precluding any possibility of spending them for liquor. Where a client is ill, the regular cash warrant will be continued. The new plan will be started in operation in one part of the county where there are about 4,000 cases, and after all difficulties have been ironed out the plan will be expanded to take in the remainder of the cases to receive warrants.

Answers To The Moth Question

By Katharine Fisher

Director of Good Housekeeping Institute

Here are our answers to the questions thousands of women have asked us about moths, and how to defeat them. They are answers which have been thoroughly checked for accuracy.

- Q. Do flying moths eat holes in wool?
- A. No, it is the larvae or little white worms that hatch out of the eggs laid by the flying moths that do the damage. The eggs hatch in a few days in comfortably warm places, so wools left undisturbed where moths can get at them may soon be damaged.
- Q. How can winter clothing be protected from moth damage during the summer?
- A. It can be mothproofed, or fumigated or sprayed with an insect spray, and stored where moths cannot possibly reach it. Or it may be stored in a cedar chest. Good laundering and dry cleaning leave wools free from moths. If they are stored at once where moths cannot reach them, they will be protected against damage.
- Q. How is clothing mothproofed?
- A. By spraying it with a mothproofing solution which makes it distasteful and inedible to moths. Do not overlook a spot, and don't forget seams and folds. Under surface of collars, under buttons, and in pockets. Every thread must be covered. Blankets, sweaters and other easily accessible wools can be immersed (or rinsed) in a solution of a mothproofing compound available for that purpose. Mothproofed clothing need not be stored out of the reach of moths. It may hang in a closet or lie in a drawer or on a shelf.
- Q. How are wools fumigated?
- A. By the use of a fumigant. Fumigants are usually either paradichlorobenzene or naphthalene, and are sold as such under various brand names. They give off fumes that kill moths at all stages, provided the fumes are strong enough and the moths are exposed to the fumes long enough. This can only be done well if plenty of fumigant is used and if the fumes are enclosed in a space that is comfortably warm and practically air-tight.
- Q. Can wools be protected well by fumigating them in dresser drawers?
- A. Not unless they are sprinkled liberally with the fumigant and at once wrapped closely and sealed in strong paper to keep the fumes from escaping. Wrapped in this way they may also be laid on shelves.
- Q. Can wools be fumigated in closets?
- A. Yes, if the closet adjoins a room that is comfortably warm. Clean the closet, then sprinkle the fumigant on shelves and floor, using a pound of fumigant for a small closet 2' x 2' x 7' (28 cubic ft.) or 2 1/2 lbs. for a closet 3' x 3' x 7'. Now hang up the clothing to be fumigated and seal the closet door with gummed paper or the tape used by fumigators. Leave the clothes there until they are needed again.
- Q. Can clothes be fumigated by hanging a fumigant in a closet that is in use?
- A. No, as the fumes escape when the door is opened and so become too weak to kill the moths.
- Q. Will moths attack clothing and other wools that have been thoroughly fumigated?
- A. Yes, fumigation does not mothproof wools. In fumigating any wools, therefore, they must be left stored where moths cannot get at them until they are going to be used again.
- Q. How can insect sprays protect wools from moth damage?
- A. These sprays kill the moths, or their eggs or larvae when they come in contact with them. The spraying, like the fumigation, must be done very thoroughly. They do not mothproof the wool; therefore the spraying must be repeated regularly if moths are about, or the wools, after being sprayed, must be stored at once where moths can't get at them.

New Phone Service at City Hall

Raising the number of telephone trunk lines leading into the city hall to three and giving advantages of inter-office communications, a new switchboard has been installed in the city clerk's office here. The board connects all departments in the city hall but does not replace direct lines to police, fire and water departments.

The new system retains the city hall phone number—627—but it replaces the temporary two-line circuit which was installed when the city hall building was erected. The board has provisions for adding more connections when they become necessary.

Anyone having business to transact with the city clerk, mayor, city attorney, city judge, or city engineer should call 627 and the call will be promptly relayed to the official wanted. Dorothy Christie is operator of the keytype switchboard with Bobby Turner as assistant.
